

House rules. So one of the first things we will do when we see what the House finally does, because we don't know yet, is I will sit down and talk to the Republican leader and find out if there is a way we can proceed to allow people to do what they think is necessary on the bill but at least make it so it is more understandable and we are not here this coming Friday, a week from tomorrow, 8, 9 o'clock at night, still trying to figure out what we are going to do on that. As contentious as this matter is, I would like to have an orderly process on which to move forward.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Republican leader is recognized.

SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I think most of the items the majority leader mentioned we should be able to move to completion on. There remains a good deal of concern on this side about the way in which procedurally we are going to go forward on supplemental appropriations. But having said that, it certainly is an important piece of legislation. I am sure we will get to the end of the process at some point next week.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

CORPORAL JOSEPH H. CANTRELL IV

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to the undaunted courage and fighting spirit of one soldier from the Commonwealth of Kentucky. CPL Joseph H. Cantrell IV was lost on April 4, 2007, in Taji, Iraq, when an improvised explosive device detonated near his vehicle during combat operations. The Westwood, KY, native was 23 years old.

For his valor in uniform, Corporal Cantrell received several awards, medals and decorations, including the National Defense Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Purple Heart.

After Corporal Cantrell was gone, his mother, Sondra Adkins, met a woman at a hospital who said that her nephew was also a soldier. He had been wounded and then saved by an Army medic, and now was going to name his son after the medic who had treated him. That medic's name was Joey.

"My son saved her nephew's life," Sondra reveals.

Those who knew Joey growing up in Boyd County, in northeastern Kentucky, were not surprised at the impact the young man could have on others. Sondra remembers when an excited Joey called her to say "there is nothing more beautiful than bringing a baby into the world."

"By chance, he got to deliver a baby during his Army training," Sondra says. "He was high on life that day. That wasn't a planned event. He called and said, 'You're not going to believe this . . . I got to deliver a baby.'"

Joey was an Army medic who saved lives in Iraq. He brought the same enthusiasm to his job that he once had as a child who would dress up in camouflage and green paint on Halloween and go out as "G.I. Joey."

At Westwood's Fairview High School, Joey was a member of Who's Who and the National Honors Society, and played football and ran track.

"I didn't want him to run track because he was so short," Sondra recalls. "The hurdles came up to his hipbone. But he could clear those hurdles and come out . . . as the best hurdle jumper. . . . Track was his calling. He could flat-out fly."

Joey's dad, Joe Cantrell, remembers eating lunch with his son just before a big hurdle race. "We went to eat and Joey told me, 'Dad, I'm going to win this because they don't think I can,'" Joe says. "When the gun went off, all they saw was his back end. When he'd get his confidence built up, he was fun to watch in sports."

"Joey had the perfect life in high school," Sondra adds. "Dating the head cheerleader, excelling on the football team. He was very outgoing."

Joey graduated from Fairview in 2002, and attended Ashland Community College. One day he came to his mother and said, "Mom, I have something to prove."

"I said, 'You don't have anything to prove to anybody,'" Sondra says. "He replied, 'You're right. I have to prove this to myself.' I was prepared for my son to move out, but I wasn't prepared for my son to live halfway around the world."

Joey enlisted in the U.S. Army on March 31, 2005. "He joined the Army to see how high he could fly without someone to catch him," his father, Joe, says. "There was no quit in him."

Joey was assigned to the 2nd Battalion, 8th Cavalry Regiment, 1st Brigade Combat Team, 1st Cavalry Division, based out of Fort Hood, TX, and in October 2006, he was deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

One day he called his mom from Iraq after saving a fellow soldier's life. "Mama, the only thing the soldier was worried about was if he would be able to walk again and continue serving his country," he told her.

"He loved his job," Sondra adds. "They're out there to do a job just like all of us—but theirs is the most dangerous of all."

Joe says that Joey eventually wanted to study sports medicine. Sondra recalls Joey wanting to be a doctor, perhaps an obstetrician.

On the day of Joey's funeral, students from the local schools lined up alongside the road holding flags to watch the procession drive by. "I couldn't believe the turnout from the community," Sondra says. The city of Westwood dedicated Main Street in Joey's memory.

Mr. President, our prayers are with the Cantrell family after their tragic loss. We are thinking of Joey's mother, Sondra Adkins; his father, Joe Cantrell; his brother, Chase Adkins; his stepfather, Bryan Adkins; his grandmother, Pehylien Mullins; his aunts Anita Hollo, Jeannie Mullins, Elisa Lambert, and Janie Hill; and other beloved family members and friends. Joey was predeceased by his grandfather, Claude Mullins.

At Boyd County High School in Ashland, a teacher named Mary Beth Leadingham Patton started "Project Joey." Mary Beth is an old friend of Joey's mother, Sondra.

"She was one of the first visitors to come to my house to see my Joey when he was born," Sondra recalls.

Project Joey is simple: When Mary Beth's kids pass someone in uniform, they stop and say thank you.

"Those young men and those young women—we truly do not know what they've had to see in their lives," Sondra says. "We should always be thankful that we have someone who's gone that extra mile for all of us."

Sondra, of course, does know some of what our men and women in uniform have seen, as she watched her little Joey grow into a man, a patriot and a dedicated soldier.

And although he is gone, it is not too late to thank CPL Joseph H. Cantrell IV. This United States Senate is honored to pay tribute to his life of service, and we pause with reverence for the sacrifice he made on his Nation's behalf.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. HARKIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

FOOD, CONSERVATION, AND ENERGY ACT OF 2008—CONFERENCE REPORT
